STUDY DISPUTED POINTS, REVISION OF CONSTITUTION

Committee Acts to End Disagreements and Bring Revision Bill to Floor

IN STATE SET-UP

Governor Informed Provision For Special Election Will Jeopardize Bill

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—(INS)—Sub-committees today studied two disputed points in legislation setting up machinery for constitutional revision as the Senate Constitutional Changes Committee acted to end disagreements and bring a revision bill to the floor.

One sub-committee was assigned to determine whether delegates to a constitutional convention could be chosen by voting machines in counties where they are in use. The other group studied what steps should be taken to provide publicity for the proposed new constitution before it is put to a referendum vote.

Appointment of the sub-committees came at a meeting of the entire committee following a conference of Chairman G. Mason Owlett, Tioza, and Gov. George H. Earle. Governor Earle urged Owlett to report a bill providing for an early special election. The Ruth Administration Bill as passed by the House set May 14 for a special election to name delegates.

Owlett told Governor Earle any provision for a special election would jeopardize a revision bill in the Senate and said the committee stood on its vote to strike this feature from the Ruth Bill. He said he hoped his committee would complete its work within another week or two. When the bill is ready to be reported, Owlett said he would confer again with the Governor to discuss the committee's changes.

Owlett indicated that general agreement has been reached on most of the provisions of the amended Ruth Bill. The only major point left to be ironed was the question of whether delegates should be named by Senatorial or Congressional districts.

It was developed that voting machines might not be able to carry the names of all candidates for delegates at next November's county election. Three district and 18 statewide delegates will be selected. Discussion over publicity came on the provision in the administration bill providing for publication of the text of the proposed new constitution only once. Some Senators objected this was not sufficient.

Release Japanese Who Took Pictures of Bridge

BURLINGTON, N. J., Mar. 28.—The Japanese who was taken into custody here on suspicion of being a spy has been released.

Tuesday morning about nine o'clock Nakajiro Watanabe, 42, 2958 Roberts avenue, New York City and New Rochelle, N. Y., was arrested by Sergeant George Bowley and Patrolman Clarence Bennett, along the Delaware River bank, near St. Mary's Hall.

The police were cruising in the police car and their attention was attracted to a New York car parked near the Hall. They also saw nearby a Japanese taking pictures of the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

Going back to the car they found another camera. They at once notified Prosecutor Howard Eastwood, who ordered the man taken to Mt. Holly, to be questioned by County Detective Ellis H. Parker.

Questioned at length by Parker the Jap stated he was interested in structures of this sort and that was his reason for photographing the bridge.

Parker had the film in the one camera, which was a reported High Speed German Camera, sent out and developed. There were also found to be pictures of the Pennsylvania shore, as well as an alleged picture of the DuPont Powder plant at Pennsgrove.

The one camera it was reported would take pictures at a mile distance. The Jap was dismissed by Parker, after the questioning, and he left in his car.

The finding of the Jap with the German High Speed Camera is something to be alarmed about.

Want Flood Relief

Washington, D. C., Mar. 28.—Members of the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation vitally interested in flood control, today joined a movement to allocate $600,000,000 of the $1,850,000,000 Work Relief fund for flood control. An appeal was made to the members of the Senate House Conference Committee on the work relief bill, to raise the allocation of $350,000,000 for flood control adopted by the Senate, to the $600,000,000 figure. A bill recommended by the House Flood Control Committee allotting $600,000,000 for flood control also was impending in the House.

MONTREAL.—(INS)—Roger Thebaud, eight, was killed by a peanut here. It became wedged in his throat and he choked to death before hospital doctors could remove it.

Langhorne Choral Society To Make Initial Appearance

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 28.—The Langhorne Choral Society will make its first appearance on Palm Sunday evening at Grace Episcopal Church, here, when the Stabat Mater by Rossini will be sung. This is one of the most difficult of sacred cantatas, and over an hour is required for the rendition of the beautiful piece.

The chorus, which is directed by George W. Tetlow, Langhorne Manor, is composed of the following:

Sopranos, Mrs. Jennie Halk, Mrs. Praul Vansant, Miss Adeline E. Reetz; contraltos, Mrs. Frank Lyons, Miss Georgiana Staehle, Miss Grace Jacobs; tenors, George W. Tetlow, William A. Thomas, Rudolph Rogowski; basses, H. Douglass LeCompte, Ferdinand Bachofer, Garvin R. Pfeffer. The accompanist is Mrs. Harry Friedrich.

ENACTMENT OF LAW WOULD MAKE MANY IDLE

Philadelphia Electric Company Spokesman Appears at The Hearing On Measure

WOULD MAKE 2600 IDLE

HARRISBURG, Mar. 28.—Declaring that the enactment of the bill prohibiting public utility companies from merchandising appliances would throw out of work 2,600 employees now earning $4,000,000 annually, George E. Whitwell, Vice President of the Philadelphia Electric Company, presented the public utility's story at a hearing before the House Public Utilities Committee yesterday afternoon, in opposition to House Bill No. 207.

Other speakers at the hearing included John Tritto of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, who said in his opinion the bill instead of being referred to as being against the utilities should be "against the workman;" G. A. Wolf of Altoona, R. J. Morrison of Easton and George F. Schuck of Philadelphia, who spoke representing the appliance dealers.

In opening his address Mr. Whitwell said the entire future of the gas and electric industries in Pennsylvania is in danger. The proposed bill, he said, was not in the public interest but was, rather, a backward step; it was of no benefit to the dealers and not in the best interest of business generally.

The prohibiting of the sale of merchandise by the utility companies affects 1,524 men and women engaged in the retail sales departments. Their annual wages total $2,400,000. In addition to these there are 1,000 employees in the servicing departments earning $1,400,000 annually who would lose their jobs.

These 2,600 employees cannot be absorbed by the companies in other positions and experience in other states has shown that in the present state of unemployment, it will not be possible to absorb them in other industries.

Among the features of the bill which would result detrimentally to the public, Mr. Whitwell cited the fact that it would seriously retard the program of rate reductions; it would also cut off residents in rural sections from the advantage of purchasing from well-stocked utility company supplies because small dealers in their communities would not be able to carry the stock.

Customers, also, would not be able to get the most of their appliances because there would be no supervision as at present.

The people of the state he said would suffer as did the people in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, while merchandising was prohibited there.

The loss of prompt servicing of appliances would be keenly felt and the buying public would be made the victims of selling rackets of sub-standard appliances.

Under present conditions, Mr. Whitwell pointed out the utility companies are selling high quality merchandise and maintain a fair retail selling price. Nor do they accept the exclusive sale of any appliances, nor offer premiums unless all dealers are given the same opportunity.

Independent dealers also benefit through co-operating advertising and promotion plans of the utility companies. In the dealer-co-operating plans the utilities maintain the position, with relation to new customers, not to make the purchase of any appliances a factor for rendering service.

If the utility companies are taken out of the merchandising field, Mr. Whitwell added, the independent dealer will not be able to take its place and Pennsylvania would be taking a step which, after a trial was discontinued in Kansas by the repeal of the law.

FANCY WHEELBARROWS

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—Rubber tires for wheelbarrows. That was the remedy ordered by city Commissioner Bean when grit and sand grinding between the marble floor of the city hall and the iron wheels of remodelers made stenographers bite their nails and strong men grind their teeth as alteration work progressed.

ENTIRE FACULTY OF SCHOOLS HERE TO ATTEND SCHOOLMEN'S WEEK SESSIONS AT UNIVERSITY OF PENNA. NEXT WEEK

Teachers Here Have Been Participants for Last Three Years—It Is A Substitute for the Bucks County Institute—Warren P. Snyder on Program Committee This Year

The entire membership of Bristol public school faculty will be in attendance at Schoolmen's Week sessions at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, next week.

The program for the 22nd annual meeting of Schoolmen's week, which is being sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania, and the Southeastern Convention District of Pennsylvania, State Education Association, is to be conducted for four days, April 3rd to 6th inclusive. The Bristol borough teachers will be present at the sessions on Thursday and Friday, April 4th and 5th, classes here being suspended on the days designated.

For the past three years public school teachers of Bristol have participated in Schoolmen's Week events, going to Philadelphia for two days. This is a substitute for the Bucks County Institute. For a time an extension program was conducted in the local schools, but this gave way to the Schoolmen's Week a few years ago.

Bucks County is signally honored in having representation on the program committee for the affair this year. Warren P. Snyder, principal of Bristol high school; and Lewis H. Snyder, supervising principal of Sellersville-Perkasie schools, are members of that committee. Lewis Snyder is also a member of the executive committee.

A number of Bucks County people are represented in the plans and programs for the week. Among them are: Ezra Miller, Newtown, who will give a brief talk on "The Advantages of the Larger Unit" in connection with the school director's program, April 3rd; "Remedial English at George School," Paul R. Evans, head of the English Department at that school; "Reading in the Junior and Senior High School—North Penn Measurement Group," M. R. Reiter, supervising principal of Morrisville school; George R. Cressman, supervising principal at Doylestown, who is a member of the panel for "In-Service Development of Teachers"; Joseph H. Shane, George School, panel member in the discussion for junior and senior high schools, "Measurements Today and Tomorrow"; Charles H. Boehm, assistant superintendent of Bucks County schools, who will take part in the discussion of "The Changing Educational Program in the Rural Schools of Pennsylvania," at the April 5th morning session; George A. Walton, principal of George School, Newtown, who is to serve as chairman of the supervision of experimental programs in Secondary schools. Two other George School teachers are on the program. In Thursday's history discussion, Herbert J. Abraham will give "An English View of Social Studies Teaching"; and Wilhelm Hubben will have as his topic "A German View of History Teaching."

Scores of lectures and discussions are to take place during the four days, and the instructors will in the main be in attendance at the sessions dealing with the subjects they teach. The general subject to be dealt with this year is "Educational Responsibilities of Today and Tomorrow."

Governor George H. Earle is expected to give an address at Saturday's meeting. Another outstanding speaker is Cameron Beck, director of New York Stock Exchange Institute, New York City, a most inspirational orator. Others of prominence on the program are: John A. Stevenson, vice-president, Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company; David Snedden, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City; Howard W. Odum, director for Research in Social Science, University of North Carolina; James N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction, Harrisburg; John L. Childs, Teachers College of Columbia University; and Horace M. Kallen, New School for Social Research, New York City. Dr. Snedden will also be the speaker at the Phi Delta Kappa dinner at the Christian Association, 36th and Locust streets, Thursday at six p. m.

One of the highlights of Wednesday evening will be the Tercentennial Celebration of Secondary Schools in Irvine Auditorium, 34th and Spruce streets, at which time a pageant, "No Retreat," official Tercentennial celebration pageant, will be staged under direction of Mrs. F. Harned, Haddonfield, N. J.

NAZI GOV'T LASHES AT REPORT OF ASPIRATIONS

Takes Offensive With Unexpected Vigor; Hits at Rumored Schemes

REJECTS "POISONING"

By Pierre J. Huss (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Germany, Mar. 28.—With unexpected vigor, the Nazi government took the offensive today and lashed out at press reports accusing the Reich of vast territorial aspirations and of conniving against Italy and Abyssinia.

At the same time, through some official news agencies, the charge was hurled that France and not Germany has intruded itself in the Rulo-Abyssinian dispute by supplying arms and military instructors to Emperor Silasee of Ethiopia.

Germany's reaction to the press charges against her took an unusual form.

In the case of the allegations of territorial aspirations, the government established the almost unexampled course of striking directly back at the London Daily Telegraph which yesterday published a list of "demands" said to have been made by Chancellor Adolf Hitler in his conference with Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simons, of Britain. This list, widely published abroad, but originating in the first place with the London Telegraph, included return of the Polish corridor to Germany.

"Such political poisoning of the atmosphere Germany rejects emphatically," the government declared through an official spokesman.

BRISTOL SCOUT TROOP WINS HIGH AWARDS

Troop No. 1 Takes 1st or 2nd Place in Each of The Events

VICTORY AN EASY ONE

Bristol Troop No. 1 led by Scoutmaster Joseph Mountney, and Assistant Scoutmaster Herbert A. Pettit, Jr., took a first or second place in each of the events of the Lower Bucks District Scoutcraft Meet conducted at the Bristol High School Gymnasium, last evening, by the Bucks County Council Boy Scouts of America. The troop of the Presbyterian Church ran up the high score of 42 1-3 points. The victory was not an easy one. The competition was keen, and each place was strenuously contested. It was a hard fought well-earned victory.

The lads of Troop No. 2 of the Episcopal Church, Scoutmaster Robert Downing were giving their best in each event, the troop took second place with a total of 17 1-3 points. Third place was taken by Bristol No. 7, Scoutmaster Horace Prevost with a score of 15 1-3 points. Teams were also present from Bristol No. 6, Scoutmaster William Lyndall, and Cornwells No. 1, Scoutmaster William Amick.

The gymnasium was well filled with enthusiastic rooters supporting each of the competing units. A number of parents and friends were present. There was great interest shown in each event. The various competitions have been a part of the troop programs during the past months, and

Federal Housing Administration

LWD ENUMERATORS WILL START CANVASS SOON

Bucks County Better Housing Program Ready For Big Things

SPEAKERS AVAILABLE

SOUTH LANGHORNE, March 28.—With the first of Spring, the Federal Housing Headquarters here reports that the Bucks County Better Housing Program is ready to get under way with renewed strength and an increased personnel.

The Local Works Division has promised that enumerators shall start out within the next two or three days, and along with the incentive created at this time of the year for homeowners to improve, renovate, remodel and modernize their property, comes the actual possibility for such work to be accomplished. This opportunity which is incorporated in the Federal Housing Act, is the finest proposition ever put up to the American people to increase the value of their homes.

The offices of the Better Housing Administration in this County, namely: Perkasie, Doylestown and South Langhorne, under the direct supervision of Horace J. Palmer, county chairman, have been faithfully carrying on since the inception of this project, and even though they have been working under the handicap of adverse weather conditions, a more or less general misunderstanding of this Act, insufficient funds and a lack of co-operation, the results have been very gratifying.

In order to effect a realization of the many advantages offered by this Act to the public, the Federal Housing Administration in Washington, D. C., through the Philadelphia office, has instituted a speakers bureau, to contact all civic and local organizations in the county. The object of this service extended by the Federal Housing Administration, is to present the subject of Better Housing to as great a number of diversified groups as possible. A rare opportunity is offered to those taking advantage of this service, as many of the speakers retained by this bureau are of national repute and are outstanding in the field of their profession.

Mrs. Delight Sweney Trimble, noted architect, will discuss home improvements obtainable under borrowing privileges of the National Housing Act at two Bucks County meetings next week—the Parent-Teacher Association, Langhorne-Middletown high school auditorium, Langhorne, Tuesday night, at 8:30; and the Dooyapo Club women's meeting at Doylestown Inn, Thursday, at 8:30 p. m.

Laugh Picture Comes Here Entitled "The Gilded Lily"

A gay, sprightly and light-spirited new comedy, "The Gilded Lily," opens tonight at the Grand Theatre, with beautiful Claudette Colbert in the starring role and two handsome new leading men supporting her.

The plot of "The Gilded Lily" concerns a pair of amiable people whose principal diversion consists of sitting on a park bench and munching popcorn. But their blissful heaven is broken up when Claudette Colbert, the girl, falls in love with an English noble, Ray Milland, visiting the United States incognito.

When he walks out on her, her old boy-friend Fred MacMurray, who is, incidentally, a reporter, turns press-agent and booms Miss Colbert into an overnight sensation as the girl who jilted a duke.

In time, she and Milland come together again in London. She has never completely recovered from her love for him, but his treatment finally opens her eyes. She realizes, suddenly, that she has been in love with MacMurray all the time and hurries back to the United States. In the final close-up, we see this pair munching popcorn on their favorite park-bench.

Poland Adopts Constitution

Warsaw, Poland, Mar. 28.—In a series of swift moves foreshadowing hardening of his policy against Soviet Russia, Joseph Pilsudski, inaugurated a virtual Fascist dictatorship over Poland today. The new constitution, drafted on somewhat Fascist lines, was adopted as the cabinet, headed by Premier Ganicz Jedziewicz, was stripped of its power. Pilsudski planned to install Colonel Skawski as the new Premier and trust him with his own iron-handed powers.

Recover Two Bodies

Sunbury, Mar. 28.—The bodies of two missing persons recovered from the Susquehanna River, were identified as those of Luzerne county residents. The body of a young woman, brought up by the coal dredge near Johnson's Run, above Northumberland, was believed to be that of Mrs. Mary Rooney, of Plymouth, who disappeared February 5th. The body of Leonard Suspect, 20, missing from his home since January 30th, was found below the Sunbury-Shamokin dam coal bridge.

Oppose LaFollette Plan

Washington, D. C., Mar. 28.—A sharp contest in the Senate over the LaFollette plan to impose a $300,000,000 increase in Federal income taxes today delayed enactment of the bill repealing the "pink slip" income tax publicity. In offering the tax amendment, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin was challenged on constitutional grounds by Senator Harrison of Mississippi. He charged the amendment was out of order because only the House had the constitutional power to initiate tax legislation, thus bringing a constitutional row with Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, now regarded as the Senate's outstanding constitutional authority, who argued that LaFollette was in order. Borah contended the bill repealing the "pink slip publicity" affected Federal revenue and modified the existing tax law. Under these circumstances, he added, it was constitutional for the Senate to insert an amendment taxing other revenues.

Two Fliers Killed

Washington, D. C., Mar. 28.—Two naval fliers were killed last night when their plane crashed 15 miles off Lofos, California, during a practice flight from the aircraft carrier Lexington. They were: Pilot G. E. Kelley of Texarkana, Texas, and Machinist Mate Roy Corillo, San Diego, California. Their bodies have not been recovered.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP IS FORMED AT ANDALUSIA

Miss E. May Early is To Be the Captain; Program Is Presented

14 CHARTER MEMBERS

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 28.—A new Girl Scout Troop was formed here Tuesday night. The initial meeting here occurred at the home of Mrs. J. Wendkos, Ellwood avenue, with 14 young women and six members of the women's Girl Scout committee present.

Miss E. May Early, who is to be captain of the Girl Scouts, conducted the meeting, and presented the program.

The aim at the present time is to start with the older girls of 13 years up, and when they have mastered the elementary principles of Girl Scouting to admit the younger girls of 10 years and up. In this way the older girls can aid the captain in leadership.

With the formation of Girl Scouts, Andalusia takes its place among towns having a full program of Scouting for boys and girls, at the present time having Cubs, Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Men's Committee, Mothers' Auxiliary B. S. A., Girl Scouts and Girl Scout committee.

The charter members of the Troop are: Dorothea Wenner, scribe; Margaret Flanagan, Jeanne Stackhouse, Florence Hodges, Virginia Curtis, Henrietta Hessert, Frances Wilkins, Gladys Richardson, Marion Kirk, Daisy Barnett, Annetta Smith, Lorraine Daly, Ethel Hartman, Lieut., and E. May Early, captain.

The members of the women's Girl Scout committee present were: Mrs. D. Chapman, Mrs. H. Behm, Mrs. S. Bloesch, Mrs. L. Hartman, Mrs. J. Wendkos, and Mrs. H. Oliver.

SUPREME COURT IN 3 CASES CONFIRMS BUCKS CO. JUDGE

Otto Max Schuster Loses Suit Brought Against Former Employers

THE DISTILLERY CASE

Appeal of Plaintiffs in the Case Is Dismissed by State Court

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 28.—Three opinions affirming the opinions of Judge Calvin S. Boyer, of the Bucks county courts, have been handed down by Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Bucks county in the case of Otto Max Schuster, Philadelphia, against Harry Largman, Joseph Largman and the Largman-Gray Company, hosiery manufacturers, was brought several years ago. It was a suit for damages for the alleged unlawful discharge of the plaintiff from employment.

On the pleadings, Judge Boyer held that the two individual defendants were improperly joined and that there was no cause for action against them. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court and Justice Maxey handed down his opinion yesterday, affirming the lower Court.

A suit in equity brought by the American National Bank, of Camden, N. J., administrator of the estate of the late Dr. Charles L. Ley, of Wyeombe, against Edward R. Kirk, Dorothy J. Ley Ellis and Clara Jamison Ley, widow of Dr. Ley, was disposed of yesterday when the Supreme Court in an opinion by Justice Simpson affirmed the opinion of Judge Boyer who entered a decree refusing to set aside the satisfaction of a mortgage. In the bill in equity the plaintiffs tried to have a satisfaction of a mortgage by Edward R. Kirk as trustee for Dr. Ley, set aside.

In the case of First Trust Company, assignee of John Kerns, against Philadelphia Pure Rye Whiskey Distilling Company, of Pennsylvania, the Supreme Court affirmed Judge Boyer's opinion that was filed on July 2, 1934, in which he directed that judgment be opened after the plaintiff sought to have judgment entered on a bond against the defendant for $300,000. The plaintiffs took an appeal and the Supreme Court dismissed it.

Lewis Devoe Dies After An Illness of Several Years

Lewis Devoe died at his home 265 Madison street, this morning, after an illness extending over a long period. The deceased was well known among the older residents of the borough as he had lived here a lifetime. For several years Mr. Devoe was employed at the Bristol Patent Leather Company but had retired about 10 years ago.

The deceased was a member of Hopkins Lodge, No. 87, I. O. O. F., and is survived by his wife, Ida Lantell Devoe; one son, William; brother, William; three sisters, Miss Mary Devoe, Mrs. Albert Stout, and Mrs. John Bains, and three grandchildren.

The deceased was in his 84th year. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the H. S. Rue Est, Funeral Home, 314 Cedar street, at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Howard L. Zepp, pastor of First Baptist Church in charge. Burial will be in the Bristol cemetery and friends may call Friday evening.

Schwab Favors War Profits

New York City, Mar. 28.—Charles M. Schwab today declared he was opposed to taking the profits of war out of industries. Returning from the Riviera aboard the liner Rex, Schwab said: "While profits might be heavily assessed during war, I think it best to leave private capital a real interest." Schwab, who is chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Company, and testified in a post-war Senate Committee hearing on his war-time profits, reputed to have been among the largest in the country, revealed he is not desirous of being called before the Senate Munitions Committee, now in session.

EUROPE'S CRISIS

While responsible European statesmen wring their hands over Germany's announcement that she is going to recruit an army, and talk pitifully of the possibility of a flock of semi-bankrupt nations rushing into war (for what, they do not stop to consider), the man who headed the British government during the last two years of the world conflict retains his sanity.

"We are now face to face with reality," says David Lloyd George. "We should regard recent developments, including the (British) White Paper, France's decision to increase her army, and finally, Hitler's declaration, as giving us a providential opportunity to clear up the whole mess."

Exactly. The choice is not immediate war, nor a series of insincere threats to Germany which can not be carried into execution without ruining all European nations that involve themselves, nor a number of alliances to be broken or remade according to the party that happens to come to power, but the facing of reality.

That reality is that unless armaments are limited by agreement, they will be limited only by the patience of the taxpayer. In an armament race, not even Germany is starting from scratch; she is already armed, but not as powerfully as she was in 1914. All the other major countries of Europe are better armed than they were then, and are year by year increasing their military power, each excusing herself by declaring that the other nations are compelling her to arm for defense.

The end of that race, in the present financial condition of Europe, is bankruptcy, or revolution, or both.

The alternative is, as Mr. Lloyd George sees, a sensible limitation agreement, to which Germany, fearful of France on one side and Russia on the other, could not afford to be unfavorable. He speaks of a "providential opportunity." It is providential if the statesmen of Great Britain and France have sense enough to grasp it. If they have not, there is a general election coming in Great Britain within the next 18 months. France also elects a new chamber of deputies before May, 1936.

There is plenty of dynamite in Europe, but it is even more likely to blow up present governments than to precipitate an armed struggle to keep Germany down. In fact, an attempt to do that might easily hasten internal explosions.

"OUT OF HOCK"

It was a sign of better times the other day, when a member of the Los Angeles police force reported that people are not resorting so much to the pawn shops to borrow money. Probably it will be found all over the country, that the people are getting cherished possessions "out of hock."

The world is full of startling changes. Many a stylish lady who glittered in high society a few years ago, has had to take those shining jewels and shove them up to "your uncle," to buy her bread and butter. Cautious people don't like that way of living, but when pawn valuables are being redeemed, it means that a new stream of money is flowing through the community, and bringing better times.

NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

FORD CENTER-POISE RIDING
ALL PASSENGERS CRADLED BETWEEN THE SPRINGS

Front-Seat Ride for Back-Seat Riders Comfort to Match V-8 Performance Wider, Roomier All-Steel Bodies

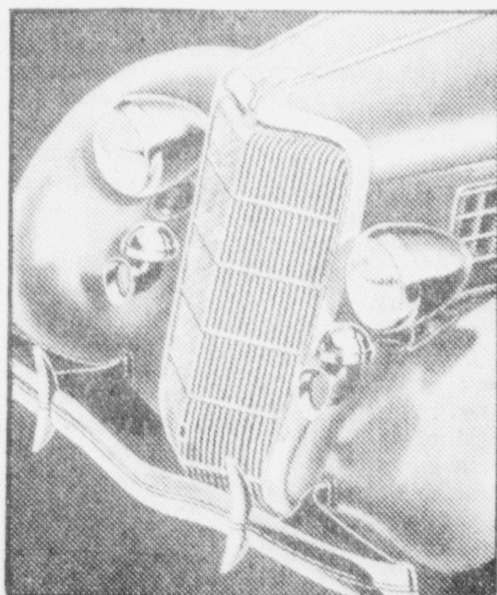

The first Ford V-8 introduced new standards of performance. Now the 1935 Ford V-8 brings comfort equally outstanding—with many other remarkable improvements.

You'll want to get the first-hand facts on this finest of all Fords—and the place to begin is on the back seat. There you'll enjoy unusual comfort at all speeds and on all kinds of roads—"a front-seat ride for back-seat riders."

This comfort is the result of Ford pioneering. Three engineering principles have been combined: (1) More flexible springs of the time-proved transverse type, set farther apart, provide a longer base for spring action. (2) Weight of both car and passengers has been more evenly distributed over all four wheels. (3) All seats have been moved forward, so that back-seat passengers now ride in front of the rear axle instead of over it.

The same basic improvements that brought about this greatly improved riding comfort also have made possible bigger, roomier bodies—wider seats and doors—added safety through

The 1935 Ford V-8 gives you comfort to match the outstanding performance of the V-8 engine. No other low-price car gives you this engine. No other low-price car gives you Ford comfort and ease of riding.

increased stability and ease of control. But only behind the wheel will you feel the thrill of V-8 power—and learn how safely and easily you control it.

The 85-horsepower Ford V-8 engine—its dependability and economy proved by 1,500,000 owners—has been improved by adding "directed-flow" crankcase ventilation, a cast alloy steel crankshaft and floating copper-lead connecting-rod bearings.

New brakes exert more stopping-power with less pedal pressure. The new, "easy-action" clutch gives still greater ease of driving.

Tone in the Ceilings

Beamed ceilings may be effectively finished to harmonize with the rest of the woodwork in a room. Natural finishes, obtained by coating the surfaces with transparent material, oil, wax, shellac, varnish or lacquer, are desirable to many home owners. Frequently beams are stained to get proper effects.

Dynamiting Continues

Wilkes-Barre, Mar. 28.—Dynamiting outrages of homes of employed miners today continued to make the reign of terror that has gripped this area since the strike called at operations of the Glen Alden Coal Company by the insurgent United Anthracite Miners of Pennsylvania, almost two months ago, by dwelling in Nanticoke. Another Four homes were damaged when a blast damaged two residences in King-charge of dynamite exploded in a dou- ston.

Housing Questions and Answers

Q.—How large should a concrete septic tank be to serve a family of four?

A.—A septic tank should be made large enough to hold a minimum of 50 gallons for every person served. It is seldom advisable, however, to build a tank holding less than 450 gallons even for small families. Concrete tanks are so easy to build that the cost of an adequate sized tank is but slightly more than a small one.

Q.—In building a cistern what must be done to assure the water staying pure?

A.—The first consideration is a tank whose walls are of a solid, durable material which will keep out burrowing rodents, polluted surface water, and seepage. Concrete is often used because it is easily formed in round or square tanks which have no joints underground. A six-inch wall of reinforced concrete is sufficient. The concrete should be made in the proportions of one part cement to two and one-half parts sand and three parts gravel. Next consideration is a filter for rain-water. This can be made by placing charcoal over the inlet screen.

Q.—Is it conventional that all modern interior moldings and other woodwork must be either in the white or cream?

A.—Light colors sometimes are considered more in keeping with the decorative schemes in homes than the conventional white or cream. The preference for a tinted paint is sometimes due to its assistance in giving softer lighting effects. Pure white, especially with strong lighting, is often too glaring for eye comfort. Some experts in color decoration consider that any color that reflects 65 per cent. of the light that falls on it is suitable for ceilings.

Interior decorators prefer that the ceiling should be lighter in color than the walls. They sometimes use a paler shade of the wall color, or a pale shade of an analogous color, for the ceiling, because when it fits into the general scheme of room decoration, it may be better than cream or ivory.

Q.—Can you give me information concerning proper relation of height to length of a room. Also, can you suggest means of improving the appearance of "unbalanced" rooms?

A.—The appearance of the size of a room, especially the relation of the height of a room to its width and length, is often of considerable concern to a home owner. When the room is decorated and furnished it may appear entirely out of proportion to good taste in decoration.

The proportions may often be readily altered or improved by the treatment of the structural design of the room, decorations, color effects, size and color of draperies and rugs, width and height of windows, arches and doors, and the kind and size of furniture.

AN ALL-AMERICA PETUNIA

A New Petunia of Outstanding Merit
Each year brings improvements in the ambitious petunia family. The latest offspring to win fame is the All-America variety Martha Washington, which was given an award of merit in the 1935 trials.

Among the petunias there are large and small flowers, single and double, and both trailing and bushy habits of growth. No family of annual flowers has a wider color range. The Martha Washington is a dwarf variety, of bush form, bearing single, ruffled flowers three inches in diameter.

Each plant makes a compact bush 9 inches tall, which is almost hidden beneath blossoms 3 inches in diameter. The frilled portion of the petal is bluish pink, and the center is a strongly veined wine red, deepening to dark violet in the throat.

Petunias of this type are the result of plant breeding directed toward a definite goal. The fact that petunias bloom constantly throughout the summer makes them the most popular flower for window boxes and outdoor beds and borders. The plants which have a trailing or sprawling habit of growth which is the natural tendency of the family are difficult to use in situations which call for more dignified, perhaps more formal posture. Martha Washington is as sedate in its carriage as its namesake of colonial days, and it keeps its figure as successfully as a modern debutante on a diet.

Petunia seeds are so small that an ounce constitutes a sizable investment, and they germinate slowly, a fact which should be remembered if you grow your own plants. By all means start them indoors or in a cold frame or hotbed, if you want flowers early. If earliness is not a vital consideration, sow the seeds in a seedbed where you can protect them from careless cultivation, and when the seedlings appear you can easily identify and protect them. Transplanting is agreeable to members of this family, and they seldom experience any check in growth, if reasonable care in moving them is given.

Martha Washington petunias will make fine edging plants, especially if they are grown not in a continuous ribbon, but with each plant far enough apart so that it may develop its characteristic habit of growth. Alternated with other plants of similar habit, for instance lobelia, or a dwarf ageratum, the color of the petunia will be brought out.

FASHION PARADE

By Margaret Garrahan

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK — (INS) — There is much, much talk going around of shorter skirts—but we've yet to see anything that bears out the chatter. Anything definite, that is. Nearest to approach it is in evening gowns, where in some instances the front hemline rises somewhat—sometimes as much as six inches... but the reception to these has been overwhelmingly weak. So don't lose any sleep over it.

Very, very gala and dressy was the performance of "Der Rosenkavalier" at the Met the other night for Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's free milk fund, with society turning out en masse (even standing!) in a flood of color and jewels. The Princess Chlodwig Hohenlohe-Schillingfurst was there, all in silvery white, and the Princess of Thurn and Taxis drew all eyes with her jewels—three strands of perfectly matched pearls and long earrings with huge diamonds and fringes of pearls.

And blue!—blue simply dotted the place, particularly sapphire shades, but red was noticeably in the minority. Mrs. Edward Townsend Look wearing one of the few red gowns in the Diamond Horseshoe. Also well represented were the new evening prints (and how we like them when they're right!). Renee Baruch wore one of these, in chiffon—very much like a taste of Spring.

Speaking of sapphire blue, you can count on it as a pendul grace—and turquoise, too. Most striking thing you can imagine was a turquoise moire gown with wide, flaring skirt and a high flaring collar, worn by one of the more vivid members of the younger set.

YOUR HEALTH

Health talk of the Pennsylvania State Department of Health and published by the Bristol Borough Board of Health.

HEART DISEASE

"Heart disease is slowly but surely being considered just as definitely a public health problem as now are smallpox and tuberculosis. The undeniable fact that prevention is one of the greatest antagonists to heart ailments gives rise to the hope that personal concern in the avoidance of the contributing factors will in time check its devastating progress," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, secretary of health.

"Heart disease is one of the country's major killers. Twice the number of people succumb to some ailment associated with that organ as die from cancer, pneumonia and kidney diseases. Moreover, the heart disease death rate is increasing nearly twice as rapidly as the increase in population. This is disturbing.

"The popular conception is that heart disease is one single and definite condition as, for example, tuberculosis. Really it can be the effect on the heart of a great many diseases. Again, some heart conditions are temporary, not affecting the structure. Some definitely impair the organ, but under a careful living program, permit one to live an average life span, while still others are progressively damaging.

"The two main types of heart disorders are: 1, functional; and 2, organic. Functional disorder involves the way the heart performs its blood-pumping job. In these cases the structure is unimpaired, the walls and valves being sound and healthy. Functional disturbances are often traceable to upsets in the nervous system. Again, they may be due to an abnormal condition of other organs. Sometimes the heart is joggled out of position by organs near it. Living habits frequently are at fault.

"On the other hand, organic heart disease involves a change in the heart itself. The two main types are congenital and acquired. The first mentioned is rare. Acquired heart disease can be divided into that caused by an infection; the toxic and degenerative variety; and the old-age type.

"Infections such as pneumonia, influenza, typhoid fever, rheumatism, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, gonorrhea and syphilis can easily damage heart structure. In this connection, rheumatism is the cause of more damaged hearts than all other causes combined.

"Toxins or poisons from Bright's Disease, diabetes and goitre, and diseased tonsils and teeth can have a degenerative effect upon the heart. Intemperance use of drugs, tobacco, coffee, tea and alcohol is another cause. Poisons due to a badly ordered sedentary life, involving lack of normal heart stimulus, also can be blamed for a degenerative heart condition.

"It follows, that as the childhood and other infectious diseases are conquered and improper living habits are appreciated for their damaging power, all forms of heart disease, including that due to old age, will become rarer. Add to these weapons a general popularity for the annual physical examination—that great detector of many incipient conditions, including those of the heart—the present killing power of heart disease should be decidedly reduced."

INSANITY AND BAD TEETH

The study of abnormal mental conditions is attracting the attention of scientists more and more every year. And as greater light is thrown upon this subject, the fact becomes progressively evident that thus far merely the surface has been scratched in this research. The vagaries of the human mind and their causes appear to be almost infinite. And the various combinations, physical, emotional and pathological, that turn a healthy mind into a sick one are innumerable. Therefore, it is not at all surprising that in some instances bad dental conditions and insanity are definitely related, according to a statement issued today by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health.

Of course it must be understood that the subject of mental diseases and abnormal nervous manifestations is an exceedingly complicated one. That unusual conditions must exist to have bad teeth directly cause insanity is readily admitted. Nevertheless, the fact remains that physicians and dentists recognize that it is quite possible for a mouth infection to have a direct relationship to certain nervous disorders well within the insanity classification.

As a case in point, a man was recently admitted to a psychopathic hospital. There certainly was no question regarding his mental instability. In fact, he was the victim of an acute disturbance that had come upon him gradually. It was observed that his teeth were in bad condition. Professional examination definitely proved the oral cavity to be a poison producer. It was advised that all his teeth be drawn. Many of them had pus sacs. In a comparatively short time the patient became normal and has so remained ever since.

Undoubtedly this is an exceptional case. But these things can and do happen. Any infection which through its poisoning action on the system results in reducing the constitutional health level under certain conditions can contribute to a disordered mind.

This fact is yet another reason why everyone should be conscientiously interested in obeying the dental hygiene practices so essential to mouth health.

HELP FROM PRESIDENT

CHEHALIS, Wash. — (INS) — The appeal of an afflicted woman for aid in getting a wheelchair, written direct to President Roosevelt, was heard. "I know you will never see this personally," she wrote, "but you know yourself what it is to be afflicted."

A representative of the county Red Cross chapter called on the woman. She was told the President's secretary had referred her request to them and that a chair had been ordered for her use.

BEFORE BEDTIME CHECK THAT IRRITATING BRONCHIAL COUGH

Sleep Sound All Night

Enjoy a coughless night—sleep sound and awake refreshed—just as wise enough to take 2 or 3 doses of Buckley's Mixture (triple acting) before you go to bed—it's safe for the kids also.

For bronchial coughs—for tough, old, persistent coughs take a few doses of Buckley's and feel as good as ever again.

Get a 45 cent bottle at United Cut Rate of any drug store—"It acts like a flash" and is mighty effective for those dangerous bad-acting hang-on coughs that nothing seems to help—often one sip stops an ordinary cough.—(Advertisement.)

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Fortune Cake Foretells Fate!

The articles a "Fortune Cake" should contain, Emily, are a ring, a thimble, a button and a dime. The one who gets the ring is destined to marry. She who gets the thimble is doomed to spinsterhood; the button means bachelorhood, and the money wealth.

And may I suggest, Emily, my dear, that you wrap the articles before placing them in the batter? You may follow any cake recipe you wish for the fortune cake, but in the event you do not have a good recipe handy, one is given below.

White Layer Cake

1 cupful butter
2 cupfuls sugar
4 eggs—beaten separately
3 cupfuls flour
4 teaspoonfuls baking powder
1/2 teaspoonful salt
1 1/4 cupfuls milk

1 teaspoonful grated nutmeg
1 teaspoonful vanilla
Cream butter, add sugar and beat until light and creamy. Beat egg yolks until light and thick and add to butter mixture. Blend thoroughly. Sift flour, salt and nutmeg and baking powder together. Add milk and flour mixture alternately to the creamed butter and sugar. Mix thoroughly but do not beat. Add vanilla and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in 3 eight inch layer cake pans in a 375 degree oven. Spread with butter cream icing between layers and on top.

A recipe for Onion and Potato Soup has also been requested and here is one which I hope will meet with your approval, Mrs. Wilson.

Potato and Onion Soup

2 cupfuls cubed raw potatoes
1 large onion—sliced

Kline Gang VS. Chain Gang

THE BATTLE IS ON —

not a fist fight, but a wrestling match. Three times on the mat and they are counted out. The Klines won the first fall when we told the truth about Oysters. And what a fall it was! Now, after a short rest, we are after the second and final fall — we will tell you the truth about Fish, and try to wrestle the privilege of serving Sea Food to you folks. That sure would be a pleasure. WHEN YOU EAT OUR FISH YOU DON'T GET FROZEN FISH! Nor Do You Get Fish That is Already Cleaned, Lying in Water!

Ray, with 12 years of experience in buying and study of information supplied by the Government Bureau of Fisheries, knows how to prepare and serve Fresh Fish. You would not go to a butcher to have a prescription filled! So why go to him for Fish? We are sure they don't know any more about Fish than they do about filling prescriptions. Don't buy Fish that is cleaned and ready for the pan, because the skins are broken and impure water from the melted ice penetrates the Fish, forming a slimy coating all over it. Think of the germs that collect when Fish is not properly protected. They become flat and tasteless and not fit to eat when kept in water any length of time.

So when buying Clams, Oysters and Fish, get them where you see them opened or cleaned before your eyes. Don't forget, there is more than one Friday in a week. So come up and see us some time. We are open from 7 a. m. till 11 p. m. — and always glad to serve you!

DINER BOWLERS WIN FROM HARRIMAN ACES

In a postponed match in the American Bowling League the cellar team, Bristol Diner, shellacked the once invincible Harriman Aces for three points. The Harriman boys were completely outclassed. Purcell's total of 561 was a big factor in the Diners' victory. Brown was the losers' best, rolling 486.

In a match between Bristol and Bridesburg Rohn & Haas teams Bristol won total pins for three games. Sharkey rolled 622 for Bristol while Dubeck was Bridesburg's flash, rolling a 547 total.

WRESTLERS BATTLE TO DRAW AT TRENTON

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 28—The majority of the 2,000 or more fans that packed the Arena were treated to one of the rarities of the wrestling game as Szabo and Dusek were both counted out when neither was able to continue. Previously each had scored a fall.

Szabo won the first fall after 25.03, when he felled Dusek with a back drop. The tables were reversed when Dusek clamped an arm-lock on the big Hungarian.

Then, when the pair had wrestled nearly 14 minutes more, Dusek got another arm lock on Szabo and it looked as if he might be the victor. Summoning his waning strength, Szabo managed to hurl his opponent to the mat and Dusek landed with such force that he was stunned and could not continue. Szabo, himself, was exhausted and collapsed as Referee John Seaman tolled the fateful seconds. Dusek weighed 215, Szabo 202.

Gino Garibaldi, 214, made Frank Bronowicz, 216, quit after 33.26 of tugging. Ernie Stephens, 212, the Canadian had man, proved no match for Frank Judson, 221, and succumbed in a little more than 10 minutes.

Vince Zizack, 201, former Villanova College griddler, won in his debut here, downing Walt Underhill, of Canada, in 15.12 with a body press.

Harrisburg, Mar. 28—Faced with uncertainty of funds after April 15th, the State Emergency Relief Board today had postponed its monthly task of allocating money to the counties for continuing aid to the needy. The board said $20,935,956.00 would be needed to carry relief through April, but the Federal government has asserted it would advance money only for the first half of the month. This allocation was expected to be about $10,000,000.

BRISTOL HIGH GIRLS PREPARE FOR TRACK

The manner in which Bristol High school girls, the Bucks County Class A track champions, are preparing to defend their title at the annual meet at Sellersville-Perkasie high school field on May 28th, was told of by Helen O. Mankin in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin on Tuesday. The article follows:

Bucks county Class A track champions, Bristol High School girls are preparing to defend their title at the annual meet to be held May 18 at Sellersville-Perkasie High.

Bristol girls are interested in all sports and 60 candidates reported to Coach Margaret Pope yesterday at the first outdoor practice.

A half-mile run about the field and setting-up exercises daily are part of Coach Pope's new training schedule for her track girls.

Miss Pope is well qualified to coach the squad. She was graduated from Bristol High in 1927 and the previous year was on the relay team that created a new girls' interscholastic record for Bucks county at the annual meet. Grace Rittler, who afterward became a Meadowbrook star, was also on that relay team.

The county meets were formerly held at George School. Several years ago they were shifted to Bristol. Sellersville-Perkasie will be the site for the first time. Miss Pope became a member of the Bristol faculty last fall.

"I can't say so early in the season just what kind of team we will have, but we seem to be well supplied with material," said Miss Pope. "A number of the girls are back again and several who competed in class C (for seventh and eighth grades) are now eligible for Class A competition."

Manager Mary Marino, who keeps the records, commented most of the new members of the squad wanted to be sprinters. Bristol was overwhelmed with runners last year.

One of those likely to make track history if she fulfills expectations is 14-year-old Mary Ann Ducey. She won first place in the 50-yard dash in class C last season. Her time was six seconds flat. She will be one of Coach Pope's entries in the 75-yard dash and may run on the relay team also.

Martha Gibson, a colored girl who like Mary Ann has recently been elevated to the freshman class, is another runner likely to be entered in both sprints and relay. Alberta Lazzere is the only former member of the relay team on hand.

Grace Bono, senior who has done the "75" in 9 1-10 seconds, and Mary Eckert, freshman, are among the fastest runners discovered this far.

Ruth Weller, who placed in the basketball heave, is practicing for her favorite event. Betty Beswick, point winner in the standing broad jump, is out again and Rose Dipalma is doing 4 feet 4 inches in the running high jump.

The baseball throw has many candidates. Chief among them are Peggy Morrell, Barbara Lynch, Janice Jeffries and Sophie Oseredzuk. Miss Morrell gets a distance of 145 feet. She is a senior and comes from Emille, outside of Bristol. It was from Emille the members of the Still family came. Beverly Still, the last of three sisters prominent in Bristol girls' sports for many seasons, was graduated last June.

Among others out for the squad who helped win the 1934 championship are Anne Keers, Palma Salvati, Peggy Phillips, Josephine Markel and Mary Yates.

In addition to track, Bristol will have inter-class baseball and volleyball. The varsity basketball team recently closed its season with five wins and four losses. The 11-A class won the school championship in girls' soccer and basketball.

THE GOODWILL DOVES EAGER TO BOOK GAMES

Editor Courier:

"The Goodwill Doves," a newly equipped ball team, composed of picked stars of the Steel and Coal loop, would be pleased to hear from managers having inclosed fields, or who can offer a flat guarantee. To those wishing a bashy, fast attraction, a Goodwill invitation is extended, to get in touch with the management without delay.

The squad includes two uniformed coaches, official umpire, scorer, and mascot, exclusive of players, and carry such boys as follows: on the pitching staff will be found Charles "Chick" Paine, "Stat" Verdesiski, Lefty "Hooks" Danyi, Jock Selekel, etc., while "Sully" Cope, Bull Meilinger and Hal Sawanda will share the receiving post. Infield will include Al Kosi, "Sandy" Lalasko, "Peaches" Blatuick, Blondy Bearback, Bucky Unger and others, while the out-gardens are covered by some of the most colorful experts in their class, such as Jackie Meilinger, Steve "Boley" Bolash, Jewel Velekel, Romping Bill Gerger, etc. All these boys are rated among the best heavy sticksmiths in their class and click with the fans wherever seen in action. Managers desiring to book such an attraction, must communicate at once, booking going fast, and first come first served, no exceptions and no cancellations. State your terms and dates desired, which if suitable and dates are available, will be accepted.

A TOTAL LOSS

"And did your husband carry any life insurance, Mrs. Murphy?"

"No, Mum. He was a total loss."

Did you ever think that the death of one who brings wages into the home results in a "total loss," if no insurance is carried on that wage earner?

Did you ever think that the death of one who brings wages into income ended by death?

We talk of "total loss" when our goods are destroyed by fire, but fire insurance will replace them, but nothing fully replaces the loss resulting from death.

Life insurance eases the burdens of those who are left. It helps them to carry on in the daily duties.
